Matters Arising

9.1 City Status (Item 4)

Councillor Wilson spoke in support of applying for City Status, highlighting misconceptions, for example that Cities were not required to have a University or Cathedral and were not required to be a particular size. Councillor Wilson considered holding City Status could add profile to an area.

Proposed by Councillor Wilson
Seconded by Councillor McCandless

- That Council bid for City Status for Coleraine

Councillor McCandless supported the proposal. He highlighted City Status dovetails other aspirations such as retaining The Causeway Hospital as an acute hospital, courses being retained at Ulster University Coleraine Campus and at the new Northern Regional Campus. Attractions in Coleraine such as Mountsandel Fort and greenways and blueways were also highlighted. Councillor McCandless advised City status was a mark of pride and will raise the area in the future and provided the example of Preston.

Councillor McCandless requested a Recorded Vote.

During debate consideration was given to the profile and positive long term effects City Status could bring to an area. Caution was urged to ensure smaller towns and villages were not neglected.

In response questions, the Chief Executive confirmed the cost of applying for City status to be £1,500, plus Officer time. The Chief Executive confirmed a Borough can apply for city status using Derry City and Strabane Council as an example. The geographical boundary of the application was a matter for the applicant.

Councillor Quigley requested a recess to consider the information provided.

The Mayor ruled the recess could happen once the discussion was finished.

In response to comments provided by Councillor Watton, the Chief Executive advised that research he had completed showed achieving City Status did not have any real economic development, that it raised the profile of the area and could not do any harm.

The Mayor declared a recess at 8:29pm

* The meeting reconvened at 8:35pm

During debate it was considered that anything to attract inward investment was welcomed. It was considered that if Coleraine was to achieve City Status the infrastructure system would be improved. Further consideration was given to smaller towns and villages also benefiting from any success Coleraine would have from achieving City status.

The Mayor put the motion to the Council to vote.
 25 Members voted For; 1 Member voted Against; 8 Members Abstained.

Matters Arising 'In Committee'

15.1 Sale of the Dunluce Centre (Item 27)

The Mayor invited the Director of Leisure and Development to address Council.

Alderman Duddy requested a recess before any decision was taken.

The Director of Leisure and Development provided a summary regarding the process of the sale of the Dunluce Centre to date. It was stated that Council solicitors, external solicitors and Barristers had been overseeing the process. The recommendation was to accept the bid from the preferred bidder and proposed plans for a family entertainment centre, subject to due legal process being completed.

Proposed by Councillor Callan
Seconded by Councillor Scott

- That Council proceed with the sale and accept the bid with the caveat, that the receipt of money received is ringfenced for the Council agreed projects that are in the pipeline.

Councillor P McShane referred to social media and concern that due diligence had not been carried out; he advised the forty Councillors were the decision makers and not a Panel. Councillor P McShane expressed concern members of the Planning Committee were involved in any process that may lead to issues.

Amendment

Proposed by Councillor P McShane
Seconded by Councillor Quigley

- That the preferred bidder status be extended to the other two groups, that Council receive a presentation and allow 3 months to prove they have the funds/books.

Councillor McGurk queried the ring fencing of funds, whether the agreed list of Capital Projects, in order of Priority, was the list Council decided on at the beginning of the Council. Councillor Callan confirmed this was correct.

On behalf of Sinn Féin, Councillor McGurk felt due process had been carried out, market value attained and the presentation met Council objectives. Councillor McGurk supported the proposal.

Councillor McCaw stated he could not support the sale due to losing control of the key asset and its associated valuation.

Alderman Hillis stated support for going out to the market again.

The Mayor declared a recess at 9:08pm

* The meeting reconvened at 9:30pm

* The Chief Executive undertook a roll call.

Councillor Quigley felt the proposal was not suitable and that other bidders should also be before Council.

Alderman Baird reflected on a buoyant market changed in the past year, the potential impacts of Brexit and the NI Protocol, of significance and an unknown. Alderman Baird expressed she was not content with the current bid.

Councillor McLean sought the cost of maintaining the Dunluce Centre.

The Director of Leisure and Development confirmed the process used ensured that each bidder was treated equally and fairly. He further advised a bidder that had earlier been referred to, had withdrawn from the process.

The Director of Leisure and Development invited representative from Carson McDowell to present.

Carson McDowell representative provided Opinion in relation to the process of the sale and transparency. He stated there were two further legal stages - contract and documents, in order to retain control on the development and to be built out in the timeframe, to ensure a further degree of control. Carson McDowell representative clarified transfer documents, covenants, practical aspects including timeframes on Planning etc placed into contract documents and freehold transfer property documents.

Alderman Fielding agreed, in principle, to the Dunluce Centre being sold as a tourism and recreation facility. He advised that himself and Councillor Nicholl had been observers of the process, however, he considered the proposal presented already featured elements within Portrush.

Alderman S McKillop expressed concern over any control Council may lose of the site.

Councillor Mulholland felt the sale may be less than commercial value.

In response to questions, the Director of Leisure and Development provided the cost of maintaining the vacant building as £40,000 per year approximately.

Councillor Wilson requested a Recorded Vote.

Alderman Duddy referred to inward investment, improving the Borough, he stated the preferred bidder should be given the opportunity, that public sector could not evolve the business.

Councillor Watton supported not selling the Dunluce Centre at this time.

Councillor P McShane, in light of the legal opinion, re-worded his amendment, with the agreement of his seconder, Councillor Quigley.

Amendment

Proposed by Councillor P McShane

Seconded by Councillor Quigley

- That the preferred bidder status be extended to all previous bidders; that Council receive a presentation and allow 3 months to prove they have the funds/books.

The Mayor put the above Amendment from Councillor P McShane, seconded by Councillor Quigley to the Council to vote.

Councillor McGurk wished to make an amendment to Councillor Callan's proposal to remove the ringfencing element, the Mayor advised Alderman Hillis had earlier indicated he wanted to make an amendment, this would be considered first.

Amendment

Proposed by Alderman Hillis
 Seconded by Alderman Baird

- That Council does not sell to the preferred bidder, but instead, go out to the market for a third time with a view to attracting bids which will enhance the town of Portrush and the entire Borough by bringing a year round experience which can be enjoyed by local families and families visiting the area.

Alderman Hillis requested a Recorded Vote.

In response to Councillor Quigley, the Director of Leisure and Development confirmed all cost incurred to date would be incurred again if the process was to be repeated, on further questioning, he estimated, that based on the legal advice to date, it would be tens of thousands of pounds.

Carson McDowell representative clarified there would be no exposure to legal claim, preferred bidder status liabilities and cost were all subject to contract.
